

Dukes court March 8. 1735

Rev Sir

I received your Institutes Friday last, & thank you for your kind Present. This Day I gave your Present to our excellent Mistress the Princess, which she thankfully accepted. I told <sup>her</sup> the Prince of Wales & Prince Edward had been reading the first vol: which she said she knew. I am glad it serves you to some here, the 1st half of April. The little Book I lately published has had the desired effect, for wch I hasten'd the Publication viz: I was with Admiral Boscawen Saturday last, when he resolv'd to have ventriculotomy in his ship, And Lord Anson sent to me the same day to put them into the Prince George of war. I expect to go to Woolrich about it this week to there is now a prospect of having them in our whole navy which will save thousands of Lives. having for a long 7 days with rancid Turneps the very bad taste and small was cured in ten minutes, by blowing showers of fresh Air thro' the loading hot milk. that degree of heat being necessary to volatilize the rancid oyl which gives them the ill taste.

Dr Leland's 3d vol will be published by the end of this month, we have sent them to the principal Nations of Europe & many of our Plantations in America.

Dear Sir

As I have been ~~very~~ too ill since I came home to venture to London next Saturday, unless the weather and I are better. In this uncertainty I must beg the Favour you to be at Leicester Sunday morning next at nine o'clock to administer the Sacrament to about ten Persons. and please to speak to Mr Edwards Friday next. to provide the Bread & wine and give notice of it to those usual Persons. If it shall happen not to suit you, either Mr Harward at St. Wm 7, bye in Grosvenor Street or Dr Blair in Bury Street will do it. I saw Mr Manly the Bookbinder Saturday last. who will send you the Books.
Praying my Respects to good Mrs Weston.

I am
Sir
your obliged
Humble Servt
Stephen Hales.

Mr Goodchild succeeds you the first half of April 20: can you officiate for him one of those Sundays if you can, let me know, and fix which is better directed to me here by the general Post Tuesday next. because he wanted here on Sundays
